

In God We Trust
Authority and the Christian Family

Unless the Lord builds the house, they labor in vain who build it. - Ps. 127:1

Taking Back Fatherhood

Psalm 22:4 - multigenerational - land of our fathers, promise to fathers, etc.

Psalm 78:1-7

Fathers lead from the front. Father must train themselves in order to train their families. It is essential that a husband be seen as the key leader by his wife to allow her to fulfill her role in motherhood.

We must always remember that Biblical submission never equates to lesser value.

Taking Back Motherhood

Proverbs 31

The world has underestimated the value of mothers. Even though Proverbs 31 does not prohibit working mothers more emphasis has been placed on the workplace than the home.

A godly wife and mother is a truly resourceful woman who is valued far beyond precious jewels, who makes home a retreat for husband and children.

Taking Back Biblical Instruction

Proverbs 1:2-9.

1. All true knowledge and wisdom come through the fear of the Lord.
2. This is the foundation for which parents are to instruct their children.

The basis for teaching children is the Word of God. We do not abdicate our role to a school (public or private). We do not abdicate our role to the church.

“The significance of this authority is enhanced by the fact that the great masses of the people do not think for themselves but allow others to do their thinking for them. The simple dictum of a great man is sufficient for them; they need no arguments.” - Dr. Louis Berkhof
